"After a particularly enjoyable visit recently I decided to make an investment on the Sunshine Coast. Not having the time to do a thorough analysis myself, but not wanting to miss an opportunity, I looked for an efficient yet trustworthy method to purchase a vacation home.

Property Searchers came highly recommended from a good friend in London. I originally thought the firm was going to be merely a "super agent" - but this was not the case. I was impressed with the insight, thoroughness and great tactical advice they provided. They were not aligned with any Agents and I truly believe they were instrumental in identifying and advising on the exact property I had envisaged. The cost was more than compensated for in the time I saved and the lower purchase price achieved"
